BLOW AT FREE SPEECH

FREE SILVER HOODLUMS BREAK UP A DEMOCRATIC MEETING.

A RIOTOUS MOB AT RICHMOND.

GAG RULE IS APPLIED TO TWO SOUND MONEY SPEAKERS.

Bryan's Followers in the Ray County Town Afraid to Know the Truth-Messrs. Garner and Palmer, of Kansas City, Howled Down.

Attorneys J. W. Garner and Clarence S. Primer returned last night from Richmond, Mc., where they delivered sound money speeches under the auspices of the state central committee of the National Democratic party. Mr. Garner reports that the tirst meeting, which was advertised to take place in the court house yard last Saturday afternoon, was broken up by a crowd of hcodlums, who rushed upon the campus in gangs, shouting for Bryan and free silver. All efforts to appeal to their sense of decency were wasted. They charged into the audience of respectable citizens, who had assembled to hear Messrs .Garner and Palmer, yelling their defiance to law and order, and carrying banners upon which were printed revolutionary sentiments. They continued their disgraceful din until finally the meeting was compelled to adjoern.

This disgraceful proceeding was the resuit of a growing sentiment among the rabid free silverites of the locality against free speech. They had caused it to be generally understood that no "goldbug" orators would be allowed to speak in Richmond, and threatened to resort to lence in order to enforce the "decree."

They were afraid to let the truth be known. They determined that the people of Richmond and vicinity should hear silver only, and to enforce the gag rule upon every representative of the opposit faith. The scene in the court house yard Saturday is but a repetition of the rage at Carrollton, Mo., where a free silver mob howled down Messrs. Witten and Sebree, of Kansas City, who were attempting to make sound money speeches, as told in yesterday's Journal.

Such are the methods of political thugs and they can have but one effect—to dis-gust every respectable citizen. The out-landish conduct of the free silver rowdies at Richmond has reacted against them. It has made hundreds of converts in Ray county for sound money, and the affront to Mr. Garner, who has lived there for years, is resented by his many friends as an insult to the better class of people in the community.

When the free sliverites of Richmond When the free silverites of Richmond learned that it was the purpose of Messrs. Garner and Palmer to hold a sound money meeting in the court house yard Saturday afternoon, they at once set about to circumvent it. They sent to Lexington for J. D. Shewalter, a rabid repudiationists, and planned to hold a free silver raily in the yard at the same time. They hired a negro quartette to sing and attempted to engage the brass band for the occasion, but, learning that that organization had been employed by the sound money managers, attempted to bribe the musicians by offering them 15 if they would not play. This offer was rejected. The band played for the sound money meeting.

Mr. Garner met Shewalter upon his arrival and offered to debate the money question with him. Shewalter declined. He then offered to divide time with him. This was also declined. It was not a part of the scheme, to which he was a party, to engage in anything so fair. His henchmen plotted to break up a meeting, not to contribute to one.

Introduced by George Schweich, Mr. Garner arose to speak. His first sentence was interrupted by a booming of anvils and a rabble of shouts from the mob on the outskirts of the crowd. Shewalter, the free silver satellite, shouted at the top of his lungs, but his sophistries for the once free silver satellite, shouted at the top of his lungs, but his sophistries for the once falled to hold the 16 to 1 crowd, which turned from him to charge the sound mouey meeting. For a moment it looked as though there must certainly be serious trouble. One fellow, who led the mob, car-as though there must certainly be serious trouble. One fellow, who led the mob, carried a Bryan banner.

A young man in the sound money party, son of a prominent citizen, maddened by the insult, snatched the banner from the leader and slashed it into shreds with his knife. The greatest confusion prevailed. An appeal was made to Sheriff Holman to keep order, but he was helpless. The only alternative of the sound money people was to engage in a free fight with the free silver crowd or adjourn the meeting. They chose the more dignified course.

The meeting adjourned to meet in the court house at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. This second meeting was conducted with

The meeting adjourned to meet in the court house at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. This second meeting was conducted with comparative order, as the officers threatened all disturbers with arrest. There were a few extremists present who disturbed the proceedings occasionally with shouts for Bryan, but, on the whole, compared with the afternoon gathering, it was an orderly and dignified meeting. Mr. Garner spoke for an hour and a half and Mr. Palmer for thirty minutes.

Before Messrs, Garner and Palmer left Richmond yesterday dozens of the more intelligent free silver men were seen to have discarded their Bryan-Sewall badges. They said they had renounced any party that would aim such palpable and shameless blows at free speech.

Judge Hindman opened, 1 hour and 10 minutes; Harkless, 1 hour and 30 minutes; Hindman, 20 minutes to close. Both gen-tiemen are pleasant talkers and the audi-ence of 600 or 500 people was interested throughout. The speeches were able pre-sentations of the national issues. The peo-ple here are great readers and read both sides in a manner denoting that they want the truth, not political buncombe.

HAMILTON SPEAKS AT ADRIAN. Addresses the Mckinley Club on the Issues of the Campaign-A Plain Talk. Adrian, Mo., Sept. 13.-(Special.) Hon. F. V. Hamilton, Republican nominee for con-gress from the Sixth Missouri district, addressed the McKinley Club of this city last night. There was a large attendance and much enthusiasm manifested. The address was one of the ablest ones delivered in this city. the issues in a clear and logical manner. He made a strong argument for Republicanism, and left his hearers in no doubt as to what they might expect of him if he were sent to consress.

"I am a Republican," he said; "I am not ashamed of that. I would rather be a Republican and defeated than to be a hypocrite and a straddler and elected. While I shall be glad to receive the support of men of all parties, as I know I shall—not for my sake, nor for the sake of any party, but for the sake of our common country—yet I pledge you my henor that I shall not change front under any fire, nor flatter any man or any party for their votes If the Republican party is wrong, and you are afraid to commit the destinies of the

"If any of you are satisfied with the wa things have been going the past four years don't vote for me, because if you do and I am elected, and a tariff bill for the protection of American farms and American shops and American wool and American grain shall ever become before the house. I promise you not to make big speeche about it, but I will vote for it every time about it, but I will vote for it every time. I want a change from the protection of the pauper labor of Europe to the protection of the free labor of America. The present tariff is a fraud. It protects nothing. It does not even produce revenue enough to run the government."

PLAYED A NEAT TRICK.

Missouri Boarding House Keeper and an Erstwhile Guest at Hide and Seek in the N. Y. Life Building.

Edward Zimmerman, who runs a boarding house in Lawson, Ray county, Mo., came to Kansas City Saturday in company with Deputy Sheriff F. T. Crowiey. The officer had a warrant for the arrest of F. E. Tuttle, an insurance agent, charging him with "jumping" a board bill of $18. They ran across their man near the Union depot. Tuttle seemed surprised when confronted by a warrant issued by a justice of the peace and he told the gentlemen that he would have to decline their invitation to go with them until he had seen an acquaintance of his, Attorney Ralph Ingails, in the New York Life building.

They accompanied Tuttle to the lawyer's office and there learned that the warrant was worthless. Their only recourse was to have Tuttle arrested by the city police and held for investigation until the proper papers could be issued.

The demuty sheriff rushed out to tele-pers could be issued.

The deputy sheriff rushed out to telephone to police headquarters. Tuttle took his ex-landlord's arm and led him out into the corridor to speak with him in private. They walked down by the elevator shafts. is they faced about to return, a car a ived at the top.
"Just excuse me a minute," said Tuttle

I want to step into this room."

He entered the car; the operator slammed he door and in a trice Tuttle was out of Sight. Zimmerman forgot that he was ten stories above terra firma and undertook to overtake his guest by the stairway. It was a half hour later that Zimmerman and the officer found each other. Neither knew Tuttle's whereabouts and each blamed the other for making a fumble of the case. After setting up the drinks to the few New York Life building lawyers who knew of the circumstances they returned to Ray county emptyhanded. Yesterday Attorney Ingalls received this note from Tuttle, dated at Manhattan:

"I am safe in Kansas. Just tell them that you saw me."

"My uncle and I came here Saturday to hear Bryan's speech," said Mr. Fairhurst last evening. "After the speech we went to the Pacific hotel, where we met a brother of the deceased, Dick Pope, of Weston, Mo. About the middle of the afternoon we separated and that was the last I saw of either of them. The only way I can account for his being out on the Air line where he was run down is that he went to the depot at Second and Wyandotte streets and boarded an Air line train for home, thinging that it was the Maple Leaf train, and when the conductor informed him that he was on the wrong train, he got off at Elmdale and started to walk back to the city. He was a single man and was on at Elimonie and Started to wait offer to the city. He was a single man and wa-very prominent as a local politician near Woodruff. His brother, George H. ome of the Peculiar Features of th Reception and Entertainment of Popocratic Candidate William Jennings Bryan in Kansas City.

The nomination of Jay H. Neff for con gress on the Republican ticket is an as sured fact, and the action of the congressional convention of September 22 will simply ratify the result of the primaries of last Saturday. Mr. Neff's nomination is a popular one and will command not only the full Republican vote, but hundreds of business men, irrespective of political affiliations, will support him.

Mr. Neff is not a politician. He is a business man and eminently qualified to protect the business interests of his constituents. Unlike his Democratic opponent. he is not a recent convert to the platform upon which he will run, for he has always been an earnest and consistent advocate of sound money. He is engaged in business with interests at stake. He will make the race on a platform which will be in harnony with the Republican national and state platforms and there will be no excuse for any member of the party refusing t support him. Everybody knows where Mr. Neff stands and where he has stood fo years. Mr. Neft's overwhelming nomination by the Republicans at the primaries Saturday that the Republicans regard him as a shrewd, safe, conservative and experienced business man. He will make a worthy successor to the present distinand able incumbent of that high office, Hon. R. T. Van Horn.

Mr. Neff's candidacy will place the Re-publicans of this district in no embarrassing situation and he will receive the united and enthusiastic support of all elements in the party. In addition to the solid party support, he will receive the support of the business interests of the city, because for many years he has been actively identified with the city's business interests. He has at all times taken an active part in promoting every enterpris that had for its object the welfare of th The interests of the Fifth district will be safer in the hands of such a man than in the hands of an office-seeking lawyer who has held office almost continuously for the past ten or twelve years. Equipped as they will be with a ticket which challenges the support of every fair-minded citizen who wants to down the office-stealing gang that has ruled this county so long, the Republicans will be on the offensive from the moment the nominations are made. They will be prepared to win the great victory which awaits them in November if, as they undoubtedly will, they nominate a county and legislative ticket composed of men who compare favorably with Mr. Neff.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN'S VISIT. Party Had No Part in His Reception.

Candidate Bryan has come and gone and only a distinct feeling of disappointmen remains in the minds of the enthusiastic partisans who shouted themselves hoars in his behalf. That Mr. Bryan cuts dignified figure or makes out a strong case in his speeches not even his warmest supporters will claim. Some even assert that there is not a stump speaker of county reputation in Jackson county on the Dem reputation in Jackson county on the Democratic or Populistic side who does not make a stronger speech than the average dissertation made by Mr. Bryan. They say also that there was nothing above the Bryan average in the speeches of the Popocratic candidate in Kansas City last Saturday. The two addresses he delivered were simply stale rehashes of the talks he is making all over the country and there was nothing in them either new or forcible. Mr. Bryan's visit served to enable the Brown-Fleming-Julian faction of the city and county Democracy, which was knocked out at the time of the selection of the present county committee and which sustained another defeat in the recent county convention at Independence, to again get to the front temporarily and to make use of the same methods that distinguished their control of the party machinery in Kansas City and Jackson county. While they permitted ex-Boss Hugh J. McGowan and his successor, John P. O'Nelli, to become members of the reception committee, they tabooed Joe Shannon and all his coworkers in the local political vineyard. The old leaders of the party, who fought its battles and led it to victory in many campaigns, were ignored and relegated to the rear in order that a number of political fieldlings and bosses and would-be bosses might pose before the public as the men who were running Bryan's campaign in this section of the grand old state of Misseouri.

Democrats who have national reputaocratic or Populistic side who does not this section of the grand old state of Missouri.

Democrats who have national reputations for learning, honor and integrity, who have been chosen to high judical offices and the school board by the united votes of the voters of their own and the Republican and other parties, and who would have been glad to have joined in welcoming Mr. Bryan to Kansas City, were not permitted to see him except at a distance, like the common run of mortals.

When men like those who ate and rode with Mr. Bryan are permitted to take precedence of the leaders of state reputation in this city, it shows to what lamentable straits the Democracy of this county and city has come. The men who have been honored by the party in times past are left to cool their heads in hotel corrifors, while the Robidoux and it at the breakfast table.

This is not the first time the old leader. while the Robidouxs and the Flemings ride in the tally-ho and sit at the break-fast table.

This is not the first time the old leaders have received rebuffs at the hands of the Stone gang, but the latter "rubbed it in" a little more strongly on Saturday than ever before

SUNFLOWER STATE IS SAFE.

HON. JOHN F. SCANLON, OF CHICAGO, SAYS KANSAS IS ALL RIGHT.

He Has Been Making a Vigorous Campaign of the State and Is in a Position to Form a Reliable Opinion.

Hon. John F. Scanlan, of Chicago, who is one of the speakers working under the direction of the Republican national committee, and one of the most effective talkers in the field, was at the Savoy las evening on his way from a tour through Northwestern Kansas down to Weir City where he starts in this evening for another engagement. Mr. Scanlan is an enthusi astic talker, whose strong addresses have brought him into marked prominence in Republican campaigns in former years, and whose work during this campaign has been exceedingly satisfactory to the national For this reason he has been assigned for a week's campaign in Kansas, although he has made twenty addresses there already.

"Kansas is safe for the Republicans now," he said last evening, "but with prop-er work from now, until the day of elecer work from now, until the day of elec-tion there can be 30,000 votes made for the cause of sound money and a protective tariff. The people have been awakened to the real facts in the case and they have realized that the Chicago platform means ruin to them if adopted. At none of the places where I have spoken in the state have I been able to find anything like the number of free silver Republicans that the opposition has announced. Where we have opposition has announced. Where we have lost two we have gained three since we began the work, and if we keep it up along the lines laid out we will win a great vic-tor.

"The free silver people are composed of the lines laid out we will win a great victory.

"The free silver people are composed of three classes. The politicians, the men who want to discharge debts with dishonest money and the honest free silver man who is mistaken as to the facts. There are many of the latter class already convinced of their errors who have come back voluntarily into the party and there is the grandest field ripening in the state for effective work that was ever presented to the workers of the party.

"The local speakers at many places have practically settled the free silver debaters, and the talk on that subject is growing less each day. It is hard to get any free silver debaters any more. The question is no longer fooling the people. I find that all over the state, wherever I have talked that when I mention the tariff I meet with hearty response. The people want protection. The farmers know that protection means open mills and factories and work, and that work means a market for their products, and that is what they want. There should be vast amounts of well selected tariff literature sent broadcast all over the West, especially in the western certion of Kansas, for that is the real question, and contains in it the vital issue before the people."

Mr. Scanian will go to Weir City to-day, where he will speak to-night. He will be at Galena Tuesday evening, Parsons Wednesday evening, Redfield Thursday evening, Williamsburg Friday afternoon, Ottawa Friday evening, Redfield Thursday evening. WATSON NEEDED AT WICHITA

Middle-of-the-Road Populism Lan guishes and Missionary Work Is Now in Order. Wichita, Kas., Sept. 13.-(Special.) It is not known whether Wichita is included in the itinerary of Vice Presidential Candidate Thomas E. Watson, of Georgia, but it is certain that there is need of some missionary work here in the interest of the middle-of-the-road movement. The most diligent inquiry on the part of the Journal correspondent has failed to discover a single Watson partisan among the Populists in this vicinity. If Mr. Watson comes to Wichita, he will be accorded scant cour-tesy at the hands of his Populist brethren, for they look upon him as an interloper and deeply resent his interference in the little "arrangements" entered into by the state conventions at Hutchinson and Abi-Ex-Governor Lewelling and his satellites hold indignation meetings every time their paths cross, and if Mr. Watson's ears burn it is because they are saying uncomplimentary things about him. It is an open secret that Sedgwick county Populists do not love Jerry Simpson with that oldtime passionate earnestness that made them shout themselves hoarse over his coarse jests and go wild with cheering over his dullest platitudes when he did his first campaigning in this district. There is but one man in the county now that breaks forth into a shrill "Rah fer Jerry!" both in season and out of season at Populist gatherings, and it is stated that arrangements have been made quietly and decorously to lynch him for a repetition of the offense. But for the Watson incident, however, Simpson might have had clear sailing, as Sedgwick county Pops were inclined to be magnanimous this year. The advent of the "Georgia Cyclone" has reopened the trouble, for Simpson is a Watson man and helped at St. Louis to hitch him to the tail of the Bryan kite.

The Democrats are especially angered at Watson and embittered against Simpson. They indorsed the Populist state ticket for no other reason than that they were assured of the solid Populist vote for the Ex-Governor Lewelling and his satellites no other reason than that they were as-sured of the solid Populist vote for the Democratic electoral ticket, and the Right-mire-Willits declaration of independence has had the same effect upon them that the waving of a red flag would have upon an angry buil. MARSHAL NEELY MUST GO.

He Is Too Active for Free Silver and Is to Be Ousted From Отсе.

Leavenworth, Kas., Sept. 13.—(Special.) United States Marshal Neely is a rampant free silver advocate, and thereby is on the ragged edge of official decapitation. Neely must go, just when being the only ques tion. To bounce him at once and befor the election, might create sympathy and do more harm than good, and the marshal may be allowed to talk free silver and draw his salary in honest money unti after the November election, but no longer There is no claptrap or political buncomb about this, for the decree has already been entered, and the date of sentence is only held open for the time being. George R. Peck, W. H. Rossington and United States District Attorney Perry, of Fort Scott, made Neely United States marshal. Peck and Rossington were persona shal. Peck and Rossington were personal friends of Attorney General Olney, and it was only by their personal appeals that Neely was selected over Sheriff Chauncey Flora, of Leavenworth, who had the indursement of every sheriff in Kansas.

District Attorney Perry was forced to go to Washington, so fierce did the fight become, where he appeared before President Cieveland and vouched for Neely's Democracy.

Cieveland and vouched for Neely's Democracy.

Mr. Rossington has written a scorching letter to Neely, reciting the foregoing facts and calling the marshal to a strict account. Beyond the fact of Neely going back on the friends that made him, it is recalled that he is the majority stockholder, jointly with Mrs. Lynch, of the local Democratic paper here, which in its feeble way is saying so much against the sound money Democrats of the country. This but adds feel to the local flame that is kindled against the marshal, and his sound money Democratic opponents at this end of the line have eagerly joined the crusade against him.

CHIEF HARRIS' ADDRESS.

Recommends the Chickness Legislature That It Treat With the Dawes Commission. Tishomingo, I. T., Sept. 13 .- (Special.)

Governor R. M. Harris, in his address to the Chickasaw legislature which is now in session here, spoke as follows concerning proposed changes in the Indian Territory You are all aware that congress is urging and seemingly forcing upon usa change in our present form of government and landholding. The Dawes commission is here looking us in the face, saying (so to speak): 'Gentlemen, what are you going to do? Will you help make this change, or will you allow the United States congress to make it for you?' This question is one, I must admit freely, that puzzles us all. We regret to be forced to give up the institutions laid and founded by our parents, and take in lieu thereof 1 life foreign to our wants, conditions and our knowledge. But the question is, what shall we do? While it appears that our former treaties with our guardian governlandholding. The Dawes commission is ment have no virtue in them at this day, yet, if we should enter into new negotiations with the commission thereunto authorized, then where is our assurance that such a treaty will be of effect only until it suits the United States to call on us for some other change and concession of our property rights? Yet, we are told this all can be arranged. However, with due respect to the honorable Dawes commission and the government it represents. I would advise or recommend the creation of a competent commission of four or five good men, to meet and confer with the Dawes commission, and to act in conjunction with the other Indian commissioners from the other nations and to ascertain what kind of an agreement could be reached with them, retaining the final power in the legislature, or the people; or, in short, frame the law authorizing such commission so as to cover their full scope of authority, and under such instructions as you may deem proper.

"I also recommend that census takers be authorized with prescribed duties, to take and enroll in suitable books all recognized cilizens of this nation whom we consider entitled to land and other property rights.

"I also recommend that you authorize consider entitled to land and other property rights.

"I also recommend that you authorize by special act competent counsel to represent the nation before the Dawes commission, with respect to claimants to Chickasaw citizenship, and to protect and oppose all such unworthy claimants. The lith day of September has been set for oral arguments by counsel for the Chickasaw nation as to citizenship therein, and I ask your honorable body that you take preper and speedy action in this matter.

"In conclusion, permit me to extend my sincere thanks to you, hoping that your session will be harmonious, characterized by wisdom, patriotism and dispatch of business."

DEMOCRATS IN THE LURCH.

Populists Too Sharp for Them in Carrying Out the Oklahoma Fusion Deal.

Guthrie, O. T., Sept. 13,-(Special.) It begins to look very much as if the Democrats were going to get badly left in the fusion deal with the Populists, as far as the leg islature is concerned. When, a few week ago, the two territorial committees agreed on fusion on the congressional and legislative tickets, the agreement was subject to ratification by the Democratic territorial convention, and, not knowing just what that convention would do, the Democrats did not make any nominations for the leg-did not make any nominations for the legislature between the time of the committee meeting and the sitting of the convention, but the Populists went ahead with a rush, making nominations in every representative and council district possible.

The convention met and indorsed the fusion agreement and when the Democrats went home and began to talk about a fusion convention to nominate legislative candidates, in four-fifths of the districts they were confronted with a regular Populist nominee in the field, and the Populists would say, "Well, he was put up before the agreement, and we cannot well withdraw him. You had better indorse him now, and that will make his election sure." So it is that nearly everywhere the Dem-So it is that nearly everywhere the Dem crats are confronted with the alternative of giving everything to the Pops or be charged with breaking the agreement made by their committee and convention.

TO SUCCEED JUDGE SCOTT.

Appointment Likely to Be Made Within a Week-Candidates for the Place. .

Washington, Sept. 13 .- (Special.) The attertion of Attorney General Harmon is called to the fact that one week from next Tuesday court work begins in Oklahoma and no one has been appointed judge in the Oklahoma district to succeed the late Justice Scott. The appointment is almost in perative within a week, so that the legal business of the district can proceed on time.

business of the district can proceed on time.

The docket in the district is much behind; this owing to the many troubles of Judge Scott outside official business.

Candidates for appointment are as follows: Colonel Dillie, of the Oklahoma Cityland office; Thomas Chambers, of Oklahoma City; Charles Carswell, El Reno; W. S. Lane and Colonel Spliiman, of Kingfisher. fisher.

There is considerable speculation about who will be assigned to Oklahoma City. It is believed that either the new man or Judge Tarsney will get it. This will be determined by the attorney general when the president makes known the appointment.

Judge John C. Tarsney spent yesterday at the Midland and left in the evening for El Reno, the basis of operations in his dis-trict. He does not know whether he will open court one week from Tuesday, in Greer county, or at Oklahoma City. As it takes three days to make the trip from El Reno to Greer county, he is anxious to find out very soon which direction he will take. Should he remain in his present district and thus start off with three wagonloads of supplies for court work in the new country, he will not get back here until the last of November. He will not find out how the election goes for ten days after November 3.

For Wellinley and Flynn

Mulhall, O. T., Sept. 13.—(Special.) Jack Mulhall, general live stock agent of the Santa Fe railway, who lives here and is a lifelong Democrat, says he is still a Democrat, but he cannot indorse the Chicago platform, which is undemocratic throughout, and therefore favors the election of McKinley. He is also disgusted with the indorsing of a Populist for congress by the Democrats of the territory, and says he will work and vote for the election of Dennis Flynn.

Dennis Flynn. For the Oklahoma Legislature. Guthrie, O. T., Sept. 13.—(Special.) The Republicans of the Third council district yesterday nominated J. J. Merrick, and the Populists H. S. Hanner, for the upper house of the legislature. HAS PICKED HIS LAND.

Father of Congressman Curtis Settles in the Kaw Reservation.

Newkirk, O. T., Sept. 13.—(Special.) O. A. Curtis, father of Charles Curtis, congressman from the Fourth Kansas dis-trict, has moved from Topeka to lands in the Kaw reservation, east of here. Mr. Curtis has Kaw blood in his veins and has selected his allotments in the best part of the reservation, near the Arkansas river. The reservation, which embraces some of the richest and finest timbered lands in the West, will undoubtedly be allotted and opened to settlement within the near future, and Mr. Curtis is getting ready for the change by making an early selection from the choicest part.

The Oklahoma Oil Find.

Pawhuska, O. T. Sept. 13.—(Special.) The test oil well put down east of here by the Buffalo company struck a good showing of oil, but was plugged up at once. Since then a number of agents of the Standard then a number of agents of the Standard oll Company have appeared and are seeking to lease all the available land in the reservation for oil and gas wells, which explains the plugging up of the hole. They desire to keep the presence of oil in paying quantities quiet until they can lease all the land.

Oklahoma's Big Cotton Crop. Guthrie, O. T., Sept. 13.—(Special.) An idea of the great increase in the amount of cotton raised in Oklahoma this year over previous years can be obtained from the fact that up to last evening a little over 1,400 bales had been marketed in this city this year, as compared with 104 bales up to the same time last year.

same time last year. Bank of Malhall, O. T., Sold. Mulhall, O. T., Sept. 13.—(Special.) A. R., Jones, of Chicago, and E. J. Archinard and T. B. Imboden, of Fort Worth, Tex., have purchased the Bank of Mulhall, and will increase its capital stock and scope of business. They will also at once erect a large cotton gin in this place.

Mr. Bryan took dinner with relatives and spent the afternoon with them. At 9 o'clock this evening, he went to the private car provided for him by the national committee and went to bed. To-morrow, at 6 o'clock in the morning, he will start on his tour through the South.

REED'S COURTESY TO BRYAN.

Consents to His Using the Capitol Steps for a Rostrum.

Grand Beach, Me., Sept. 13.-Speaker Reed, in an interview this afternoon on his readiness to accede to Mr. Bryan's wish for the privilege of making the capitol steps his rostrum, said that it was simply an act of courtesy. Senator Faulkner wiran act of courtesy. Senator Faulkner wired him for the desired permission and he replied: "Permission granted, with consent of the vice president." Mr. Reed said he took it for granted that Vice President Stevenson would consent. The speaker and vice president are, by law, made custodians of the capitol grounds, and their consent was necessary before Mr. Bryan could speak there.

A GREAT GOLD FIND.

Lead Located in Southern Wyoming Which Is Said to Show Remarkably Rich Ore. Rawlins, Wyo., Sept. 13.-There is much excitement here over a recent gold dis-covery on Grand Encampment creek, about forty-five miles southeast of this city, and just north of the Colorado line. The disjust north of the Colorado line. The discovery was made by A. H. Huston and Ben Culleton in July. They have kept the matter quiet until the present time. At a depth of twelve feet, they have a pay streak twenty-two inches wide, assays from which gives returns of from $200 to $10,000 in gold.

The vein has been traced for several miles. Some forty or fifty claims have been located. Numerous parties have gone out to the new fields to-day, and others are outfitting and starting as rapidly as they can get ready.

Editor McMicken, who had just returned from the camp, has left with a party. He says it is the greatest mineral region in Wycming or Northern Colorado. The camp is in the same mineral zone as Hahn's peak and the North Park mines.

WHERE JOHN M. PALMER WAS BORN His Old Kentucky Home Is Still

Standing-A Small Log Cabin. From the Chicago Tribune. The old log cabin in which was born John M. Palmer, who was nominated for president at Indianapolis, is still standing. It is located twelve miles north of George lown, Ky., 400 yards to the right of the Lexington and Covington pike. The original house, as shown in the picture, was a story and a half high and was a square og pen. Many years ago the wing, which is lower than the original structure, was added, and an "L" extends back thirty feet.

The house was built more than 100 years ago by a man named Slaughter, and he sold it at the beginning of this century to William Palmer, father of the presidential candidate. On September 13, 1317, John M. Palmer first saw the light of day in this story and a half log house. He lived here until about 14 years old.

David Gano, aged 85, also a schoolmate of the presidential candidate, lives about half a mile from where General Palmer was born. Mr. Gano is a half-brother to Polly Cobb, the great-grandmother of Will-iam Jennings Bryan.

From the Chicago Tribune. Another one of woman's rights has been attacked-the right of search, the same privilege for which England contended in he war of 1812, and as England lost then, the war of 1812, and as England lost then, so femininity seems about to lose to-day, A Chicago firm of wholesale clothiers has invented a locked pocket, to be put into trousers, coats and vests. The fad has captured male wearers of clothes and bids fair to become popular. It is an attachment by which pockets can be locked, and any attempt to go through them will be foredoomed to failure.

That the effort to introduce these pockets is likely to be opposed by women is certain. The very means which the manufacturers use to advertise them insures this. A circular issued by the firm reads:

"You have been there. You have waked up in the morning and found your spars cash gone and not known how it has van-

Aside from this claim, others are made for locked pockets. The manufacturers say that they will prevent pocket picking, and that their universal use will force every criminal who practices the art to turn his attention to some other lines of business. business.

There are no locks on the locked pocket, or at all events what might be called a lock is keyless. They work with a spring by a combination which is secret to all but the wearer. If locks with keys are desired they can be employed, but the danger in such an event would be that the key might be locked in the pocket, and a man would have to go to a locksmith if he wanted car fare.
